

TEXAS

CENTRAL REGION

U.S. Green Building Council Monthly Luncheon

A Future Without Water is no Future at All Achieving Desired Green Building Results

Wednesday, November 29th, 2017

Location: Matt's El Rancho

2613 S Lamar Blvd, Austin, TX 78704

Time: 11:30 a.m.-1:00 p.m.

Texas
Living Waters
Project

The newly created Texas Living Waters Project (TLW) is a collaboration of conservation groups, lead by the National Wildlife Federation's South Central Region and the Sierra Club. Its goal is to ensure that fresh water will always flow through springs, creeks and rivers to reach its natural destinations.

TLW's Program Director Tom Spencer will talk to us about this new initiative and explore how our work in green building and sustainable development can contribute to ensuring water's future

Registration Fees:

- Emerging Professional – $10.00
- Member – $25.00
- Non-Member – $35.00
- Student – $10.00

Guest Speaker

Tom Spencer is Program Director, Texas Living Waters Project on behalf of the National Wildlife Federation. Tom's passion for the outdoors and sustainability has been an integral part of his life and career. He expresses his love of nature through photography, writing and gardening, and hosts the Emmy Award winning gardening program "Central Texas Gardener." Tom has a public service career spanning over 35 years. For most of that time, he served as a Producer and Host of Public Affairs programming for KLRU-TV, Austin's Public Broadcasting affiliate. In addition he has served as the CEO of Interfaith Action of Central Texas (iACT) and Executive Director of I Live Here, I Give Here.

To register: Go to <https://goo.gl/8Zux73>

TEXAS

